Press Release
2ND EDITION OF THE CONTEST FOR WIKIPEDIA USERS
IN THE FIELD OF POLISH CULTURE

After the tremendous success of the first edition, The Embassy of the Republic of Poland in Hanoi is pleased to announce that the 2nd edition of the Writing Contest for Wikipedia Users has now been opened. Join the contest to win the first prize of $2000, the second, third and distinction prizes of $1000, $700 and $100 respectively.

This year's focus is Polish culture, broadly understood. Therefore contributors can research and write about Polish art, music, cinema, literature, architecture, theatre, dance, design, video games, etc. The goal of the contest is to write as many high-quality Wikipedia entries as possible.

Participants: Vietnamese citizens who are at least 18 years old on the day of applying to the Contest.

How to submit: Each participant is required to register on the website www.yeubalan.com and to write as many articles as possible on Polish culture on the Wikipedia encyclopedia page. As proof of their written contributions, participants must then publish links to the website www.yeubalan.com. The Contest Commission will be in charge of awarding points for the articles submitted.

The contest is won by the participant who obtains the highest number of points.

Word count: Each article should consist of at least 1000 characters, including spaces.

Deadline: 31st October 2020

About the Contest:

Writing Contest for Wikipedia Users is organized and sponsored by the Embassy of the Republic of Poland in Hanoi and is back by UNESCO Office in Hanoi. The first edition of the contest took place in 2019 and focused on the Geography of Poland. The first edition was a great success, as it attracted many participants who produced altogether nearly 2000 entries. It was the first-time ever writing contest for bloggers and Wikipedia users in Vietnam. The First Prize Winner went for a seven-day-trip to Poland.

This year's contest will likely attract even more participants ready to explore the diversity and depth of Polish culture.
