PREFACE

Dear Sir/Madam,

Food safety is one of our top priorities. I mean the safety not only relating to meeting the nutritional purposes, i.e. the quantitative safety, but also relating to the appropriate quality of the food.

Try Fine Food Programme concentrates on the second aspect. All the products awarded with the sign Try Fine Food meet the very high requirements determined in the criteria elaborated by the Food Products Quality Scientific Committee which constantly monitors the high level of the quality. This committee includes the experts from the sectors of food processing, nutrition, medicine, plant cultivation, animal breeding but also economy and law.

Thanks to these procedures, the consumers can be sure that the ingredients and the taste of these products will not change.

Our next edition of the catalogue presents the products awarded with the sign of the Programme, which is well known by the consumers. It also became an appreciated award among the processors. Thanks to the visible indication, the consumers have no difficulty in finding well-known products on the shops' shelves.

We are renowned food manufacturers and the products awarded with the sign Try Fine Food grow in popularity on the markets not only in the European Union, but also outside Europe.

In the present publication, you will for sure find well-known and appreciated products but you will also discover new ones which are worth buying and trying. I encourage you do to so.

● TRY FINE FOOD Programme

The Try Fine Food Programme aims to promote the food quality. Its objective is to create a positive image of the agri-food products of the high quality among Polish and foreign consumers. The sign Try Fine Food placed on the product packaging is supposed to help the consumers to make their choice among many similar products offered in the shops. The consumers receive information that the product chosen by them is manufactured from the reliable ingredients, that there is as little as possible of additives and that it is properly labelled. The sign Try Fine Food is also a chance for the promotion of the products in Poland and abroad through strengthening the prestige of the company and the reputation of the products.

● procedure* OF THE TRY FINE FOOD PROGRAMME

The sign Try Fine Food can be awarded on demand of the producers and processors of the agri-food products, regardless of their size and their form of ownership. One of the requirements for participation in the Programme is to conduct business activity within the European Union. The manufacturers interested in placing the sign “Try Fine Food” on their products should contact at any time the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to initiate the proceedings. They can submit unlimited number of products. The sign “Try Fine Food” is awarded only to those products which meet the criteria of the Try Fine Food Programme and which receive a positive recommendation from the Food Products Quality Scientific Committee of the Try Fine Food Programme appointed by the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development. This committee includes the experts from the sectors of food processing, nutrition, medicine, plant cultivation, animal breeding but also economy and law.

● The sign TRY FINE FOOD is awarded to the agri-food products in the following categories:

- 1) meat and meat preparations,
- 2) milk and milk products,

- 3) fish, seafood and their products,
- 4) eggs and egg products,
- 5) honey,
- 6) edible fats,
- 7) cereals, legumes and root crops,
- 8) fruit, vegetables, mushrooms and products thereof,
- 9) confectionery and pastry, bread,
- 10) herbs, herbal and fruit teas, spices,
- 11) foods for special nutritional purposes,
- 12) mixed and processed based on the above-mentioned,
- 13) water and non-alcoholic beverages,
- 14) alcoholic beverages,
- 15) other.

In order to maintain constantly high level of the quality of the marked products, the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development awards the sign “Try Fine Food” to the products for a period of 3 years.

Try Fine Food Programme also concentrates on the information and promotion activities. Those activities popularize the sign “Try Fine Food” among the consumers, the producers and the processors as well as among the traders and the food distributors. Their objective is to provide accurate and reliable information on the agri-food products and to spread the knowledge about the benefits of participation in the Try Fine Food Programme.

The promotion activities also concentrates on informing the consumers about the requirements for the ingredients, the manufacturing technologies and the systems of food quality and safety supervision as well as the rules of proper labelling.

The promotion activities of the Try Fine Food Programme include various forms of promotion aimed at increasing recognition of the sign and popularizing the products marked: numerous domestic and foreign exhibitions and fairs, outdoor events and information and education campaign in the media.

The application allowing to submit the agri-food products to the Try Fine Food Programme and the list of required attachments necessary to the evaluation are available at the website of the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development under the tab "Poznaj Dobrą Żywność" ("Try Fine Food"). About the company: Unifreeze specializes in frozen fruit and vegetables manufacturing. Frozen meals are sold as single products and in the form of various fruit and vegetables mixes. What distinguishes our company from other freezing plants, is the proximity of raw material base. Vegetables and fruit are obtained from our own plantations. They grow on the fields, in immediate proximity to the freezer vessel. Thanks to it, the period between harvest and freezing is reduced to minimum. It decides about the quality of the acquired raw material and allows to preserve all nutrients in frozen products.*
