My internet of the future

The internet plays an extraordinary role in contemporary life that makes the world more civilized. Internet alters peoples' attitudes, thoughts, and activities; therefore, the world is changing gradually for the better. Many years later, the internet and its purposes will be changed completely that is why I would like to make a report about how I imagine the up-to-date internet of the future.

The internet of the future should be manageable and convenient for each people. People will have the opportunity to pay taxes and perform many transactions without leaving home. This aspect will make their lives much simplified and more convenient.

One of the strong points of the future internet that I imagine is related to communication through video calls. The future internet will have a function to touch people each other on distance. It is unimaginable definitely. However, it is a unique opportunity as if the future of the internet is to be like this, then the distance between people will not matter. They will have an aptitude to express their feeling by touching and kissing each other through video calls. It will operate on couples especially.

Another crucial point of the future internet is looking for a concrete product or merch by talking to the internet. I would like to give an instance of it. A person has a desire to purchase merch. He starts talking to the internet to look for this product. Finally, the internet finds it instantly. In addition, we can review another option. For instance, when a person looks for a product, he starts drawing it. Then he shows this picture to an internet video camera. Finally, the internet finds it immediately.

To summarize all the main points, I would like to state that these abovementioned opinions represent my attitude and thought about how will my future internet be soon. The abovementioned opinions are my expectations and predictions in terms of developing the internet. Considering all of the attitudes, I would like to state that the internet represents one of the most preferent devices to make peoples life easy.
