Virtual assistants

The Ministry of Finance implements new technologies in the area of business process management.

Robotization has been implemented in the area of service and business processes such as: human resources, payroll, tax analysis and accounting.

The implementation of robotization is a change in the way we manage business processes at the Ministry of Finance. The use of robots allows us to improve the quality of the services we provide.

Key benefits of implementing robots in the Ministry of Finance:

Full automation of selected business processes.

Fewer errors in automated processes.

Quicker implementation of processes.
