Challenges and Implementation Practice

September 30th, 2020, 11:00-13:00 (Moscow Time)

Dear colleagues,

We are pleased to invite you to our online conference “CAF-2020 European Model for Improving Public Administration: Challenges and Implementation Practice” hosted by the Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration RANEPA (Moscow, Russia) in partnership with the CAF Centre International of KDZ (Vienna, Austria).

The Common Assessment Framework (CAF) is a well-known European quality management model for public administration. It was developed 20 years ago in order to help public sector organisations to improve performance and enhance efficiency and quality of provided products and services. The CAF approach to excellence is based on easy to use self-assessment methodology. The positive CAF experience in many European countries proves a great potential of the model for public administration reforms in Russia and other CIS countries.

During the conference, Russian and foreign experts will discuss the essence and advantages of the CAF model, the features of the new version of CAF 2020, the experience of its implementation in European countries, and results of the pilot implementation of the CAF model in Russia. Participants will be able to ask questions to expert and get answers from CAF developers and practitioners.

Participants: European and Russian CAF experts and developers; representatives of pilot organisations in RANEPA CAF research project; interested experts and practitioners of Public Administration Reforms and Quality Management from Russia, CIS, SIGMA-OECD countries.
